

ACTA BALTICA HISTORIAE ET PHILOSOPHIAE SCIENTIARUM

Vol. 2, No. 2 (Autumn 2014)

Foreword	3
ARTICLES
Joseph Agassi. The Role of Historians of Science in Contemporary Society	5
Raffaele Pisano; Paolo Bussotti. Historical and Epistemological Reflections on the Culture of Machines around the Renaissance: How Science and Technique Work?	20
Yurii Duplenko; Kateryna Gamaliia. Ukrainian Naturalist and Economist Serhii Podolinsky and His Role in the Formation of the Noosphere Concept	43
Tatyana Yurievna Feklova. The Expedition of Ilya G. Voznesensky to Russian America in 1839–1849 and the Formation of the American Collections in St. Petersburg Academic Museums	55
Arvo Tering. Riga Municipal Physician Nicolaus Witte von Lilienau (1618–1688): His Medical Views at the Crossroads of Tradition and Changes in Medical Teaching during his Student Years at Dutch Universities in the 1640s	70
SHORT COMMUNICATIONS
Leo Näpinen. The Problem of Understanding of Nature in Exact Science	117
Michael Lindberg. A Brief Presentation of Two Telescopes from the Late 19 th and Early 20 th Century at the Stockholm Old Observatory	123
Iveta Keštere. The Baltic Historians of Pedagogy and the International Standing Conference for the History of Education	127
BOOK REVIEWS
Artur Alajaan. Misāns, Ilgvars & Neitmann, Klaus (eds.) Leonid Arbusow (1882–1951) und die Erforschung des mittelalterlichen Livland , Köln: Böhlau Verlag, 2014, 383pp. ISBN 978-3-412-22214-7	133
Wolfgang J. Lippke. Keštere, Iveta & Krūze, Aīda (eds.) History of Pedagogy and Educational Sciences in the Baltic Countries from 1940 to 1990: An Overview , Riga: RaKa, 2013, 288pp. ISBN 978-9984-46-285-1	137